FOR RELEASE

THE ARTS OF AFRICA will be the subject of six lectures given by Margaret F. Marcus this fall in the Old Art School Building, 11441 Juniper Road, temporary home of The Cleveland Museum of Art. The class will meet every Wednesday evening from 7:30 to 9:00 p.m. beginning October 2.

As Africa's place in today's world becomes increasingly more important, so does a knowledge of her arts and life. Mrs. Marcus will discuss the architecture, sculpture, painting, textiles and goldsmith's work of this ancient continent, and how the art of Africa is related to her tribal society. Her talks will be generously illustrated with slides, many of which are in color.

Mrs. Marcus, well-known author and Supervisor of Research at the Museum, received her B.A. from Radcliffe College, did graduate work at Harvard and Western Reserve Universities and taught for many years at the Museum of Fine Arts in Boston before coming to Cleveland.
